

In relation to the proposed review of boundary changes and cognisant of the requirement to not breach county boundaries, I would like to propose the establishment of a Greater Dublin Area constituency encompassing Dublin, Kildare, Meath and Wicklow.

The inclusion of the latter three counties in a constituency running all the way to Donegal (and with which, socially and economically, there is no comparison) is wrong and a more natural home for these counties is with Dublin.

Ewan Duffy